

Dhakal Receives South Asian Music Award

Eminent Nepali vocalist Mr. Ramakrishna Dhakal was presented the South Asian Music Award at the Second South Asian Music Festival organized by the South Asian Music Institute in Dhaka, Bangladesh on 20 March 2015. The award was handed over by Chief Guest Dr. Gowher Rizvi, the International Affairs Advisor to the Prime Minister of Bangladesh.

On the occasion, Mr. Ramakrishna Dhakal performed his popular numbers to the thunderous applause of the audience at Festival held at the Shishu Academy in Shahbag, Dhaka. In addition to Mr. Dhakal, several Bangladeshi and Indian artistes made their renditions of spiritual and devotional music at the Festival. Local music enthusiasts as well as many Nepali students from various universities in Dhaka attended the event.

Several important dignitaries including Advocate Fazilatunnesa Bappy, Member of Parliament, famous Bangladeshi singer Fakir Alamgir and the Director of the Gandhian Institute of Studies in Varanasi, India, Mr. Deepak Malik, were present on the occasion.

22 March 2015

Embassy of Nepal

Dhaka

